San Marino will host the UEFA Regions' Cup finals from 23 June to 1 July.

The San Marino Football Federation (FSCG) will be sole hosts of a UEFA final tournament for the first time, though they did stage three games in the 2019 UEFA European Under-21 Championship, shared with Italy. The draw will be on 6 March with the venue to be confirmed.

The eight contenders will be split into two groups of four, with games on 23, 25 and 28 June. The two group winners will compete in the final on 1 July. Match venues are to be confirmed

One of two associations that enter a national rather than regional team in UEFA's amateur competition, by topping their intermediate round group they became the first San Marino side to earn a place in any UEFA final tournament.
